Alpha and Omega, founder and finisher of our faith, make us into vessels of your glory and light.

Sunday, April 22, 2018 – Daily Prayer Prompt

I choose self-control. I am a spiritual being. After this body is dead, my spirit will soar. I refuse to let what will rot, rule the eternal. I choose self-control. I will be drunk only by joy. I will be impassioned only by my faith. I will be influenced only by God. I will be taught only by Christ. I choose self-control. ~ Max Lucado

Lord, we praise you for you have knitted each of us together with the utmost intention and care. May we rest in the truth that by your hands, we are fearfully and wonderfully made.

Wednesday, April 25, 2018 – Daily Prayer Prompt

I don't gather that God wants us to pretend our fear doesn't exist, to deny it, or eviscerate it. Fear is a reminder that we are creatures – fragile, vulnerable, totally dependent on God. But fear shouldn't dominate or control or define us. Rather, it should submit to faith and love. Otherwise, fear can make us unbelieving, slavish, and inhuman. I have seen that struggle: containing my fear, rejecting its rule, recognizing that it saw only appearances, while faith and love saw substance, saw reality, saw God's bailiwick, so to speak: "Take courage, it is I. Do not be afraid!" Philip Berrigan
